Pylones Hellas presented F5 Networks and NGiNX solutions, at Infocom World 2019

Athens, 28 November 2019 – Pylones Hellas, a provider of advanced IT solutions to medium and large businesses, with a long presence of more than 20 years in Greece, Cyprus and the Balkans, proudly participated as a Sponsor at the 21st Infocom World 2019, held on November 26, at Divani Caravel Hotel.

Infocom World Conference - which was held for 21 consecutive year - has as its core theme the economy of the future, under the general heading: "Economy 4.0: Connected Future". At the conference, Pylones Hellas focused on digital cyber security solutions and applications that enable businesses to improve and secure their interaction with customers and partners. Among others showcased F5 Networks solutions and more specifically Access Policy Management (APM) solution, as well as iCrypto's multifactor authentication solutions.

In a keynote speech, mr. Aran Erel, F5 Networks Country Manager - Israel, Greece & Cyprus, presented ways in which businesses can stay secure in the new digital era by implementing and simplifying their applications, with central message "Simplify and unify secured access".

The multi-dimensional presence of Pylones Hellas at Infocom World 2019 was complemented by a specialized workshop with main issue "From Code to Customer with NGiNX and F5". The workshop presented by mr. Or Yaacov, Director of Systems Engineering, South EMEA at F5 Networks. During the workshop highlighted solutions, which aimed at bridging the gap between NetOps & DevOps with NGiNX technology, a company recently acquired by F5 Networks.

In the framework of Pylones Hellas and F5 Networks' partnership, the company is the sole Gold Unity Partner in Greece and Cyprus, mr. Emmanuel Netos, General Manager of Pylones Hellas, noted: "F5 Networks combines its own cloud security and load balancing technologies with NGiNX software, thereby accelerating its further penetration into the services and applications market. At the same time, F5 Networks' worldwide sales network is being used to further disseminate NGiNX's innovative software and services around it."

As a result of Pylones Hellas' overall outstanding performance and development in recent years, the company was honored with the Business Solution Award during the conference.
